What's the cleverest scam you've seen in crypto?

And I'm not talking about "hurr durr, btc/eth/xrp is the cleverest scam in crypto". I'm talking actual flat out scams. Cleverest I've seen is a guy who "accidentally leaks" his private key to his Ethereum wallet in several chatrooms. There is no ETH in the wallet but a few shitcoin ERC20 tokens. So people will send a small amount of ETH to the address to pay for the gas to get the tokens out. But the scammer has set up a script to withdraw the sent ETH out of the wallet before the person has time to withdraw the tokens. You can view one of the addresses here: <https://etherscan.io/address/0xb7605ddc0327406a7ac225b9de87865e22ac5927> a...

We are redirected to a different site which has an ethereum address from five years ago , which may be outdated.

We use a ethereum blockchain explorer to read for outgoing transactions and on the first one we find a hex value which when decoded gives the flag `HTB{CryPt0Curr3ncy_1s_FuNz!!}`
